Productivity,
Perfectly Rounded

A New Sphere Of Outdoor Working

Orb is one of our signature outdoor innovations, built around our iconic spherical shape that combines striking design with everyday practicality. Crafted from durable composite materials and finished with wood-effect deck board lining with hardwood trim, it creates a natural, inviting workspace that sits beautifully in any landscape.

Available in two sizes, Orb adapts to the way you work, from solo focus sessions to collaborative outdoor meetings. Customise your pod with mains or solar power options, choose from a range of external colours, and configure seating and table layouts to suit your workflow.

Designed for year-round comfort and built to last, Orb transforms any outdoor space into a productive, private retreat.

Choose Your Perfect Fit.

The Orb comes in two versatile sizes, designed to suit a variety of outdoor working styles. The 4-person Orb offers an intimate, focused retreat ideal for solo work or small team sessions. Step up to the 6-person Orb for added space, perfect for collaborative meetings, creative workshops, or simply stretching out in comfort. It's outdoor productivity, tailored to your team.

Where Design Meets Durability.

Step inside the Orb and discover an interior built for both comfort and longevity. The seating and table are crafted from durable composite material with a sleek wood-effect finish, available in black or grey as standard. Each surface is enhanced with hardwood trim, adding a warm, premium touch that elevates the overall feel of the space.

The result is a refined, low-maintenance interior that blends modern engineering with natural style. A workspace that looks good, feels good, and performs beautifully in any outdoor environment.

A Solid Foundation For Outdoor Work.

The Orb's flooring is engineered for durability and design in equal measure. Built from powder-coated steel with a wood-effect finish, it delivers a warm, natural look while offering exceptional strength underfoot.

Beneath the surface, concealed adjustable feet allow the Orb to be perfectly levelled on uneven ground, ensuring stability wherever it's placed. These same anchor points also provide a secure method for fixing the pod to the ground, offering peace of mind in all weather conditions.

The result is a floor that not only looks the part, but forms a robust, reliable foundation for your outdoor workspace.
